

THE INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL OF SMALL WIND BANDS "VEJVODA'S ZBRASLAV"

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen, Dear friends of wind music,

It is a great honour for us to invite you on behalf of the sons of Jaromir Vejvoda, the world-known composer of wind music and the author of the most famous polka of the world "Skoda lasky" (Beer Barrel Polka) to the 15th anniversary year of the festival "Vejvoda's Zbraslav". The festival is held under the auspices of the City of Prague.

The festival will take place in the birthplace of Jaromir Vejvoda - in Zbraslav (part of Prague) from 24th September to 26th September 2010.

The accredited organiser of the festival is the Organisational and Festival Agency or-fea Prague in cooperation with Zbraslav Council. Orchestras from the whole world with up to 25 players (incl. conductor) without age limit which will fulfil the conditions of the participation (orchestras with majorette groups are welcome) can participate in the festival.

As a part of the festival there is a competition, which is open for small wind bands. There is a compulsory composition for the competition. The competition will be evaluated by three members of a professional jury appraising the interpretation of the compulsory composition. Each of the participating orchestras will receive a participation certificate. The order of the competition will be set by the organisers.

On the occasion of the festival the orchestras will participate in following programme points:

* 24th September (Friday) all participating orchestras will perform their own programme in Zbraslav and its surroundings, in the evening performances of orchestras in the festive tent on Zbraslav Square

* 25th September (Saturday) from 9,00 a.m. the competition of participating orchestras will be held in Zbraslav theatre. After the end of the competition the orchestras will introduce their own programme in the festive tent on Zbraslav Square. From 3.00 p.m. a festive parade through Zbraslav will be prepared. The top point of the festival will be a concert of Vejvoda's band in the tent on Zbraslav Square at 5,00 p.m. The announcement of results of the competition and a common concert of all participating orchestras under conducting of Josef Vejvoda, in which the compulsory compositions of the individual categories and other compositions of Jaromir Vejvoda will be played, will take place within the framework of Vejvoda's band's concert.

At 6,00 p.m. the representatives of the orchestras will be received by the mayor of Zbraslav. From 7,00 p.m. all participants will be kindly invited to folk dance with a Czech band and another programme to the festive tent on Zbraslav Square.

* 26th September (Sunday) at 10,00 a.m. a matinee in the tent in Zbraslav, for those orchestras which are interested in the performance, will take place.

In addition to this we would like to invite you to see our golden city Prague with all its monuments, restaurants and sights.

The accredited organiser of the festival is the Festival and Organisational Agency (cestovni agentura) or-fea, Tesnov 9, Praha 1, 110 00 Czech Republic, phone.: 00 420 2 24814458 fax: 00 420 2 24812612, e-mail:incoming@orfea.cz which is also responsible for arranging for accommodation for you.

We are pleased to give you other enquiries and answer your questions. Please contact our office. Immediately after your application you will get all documents like compulsory composition, common composition and other information.

You will find two alternative festival arrangements for your choice in the attachment.

We are looking forward to hearing your performance of Jaromir Vejvoda's music.

- III. The festival is held under the auspices of the City of Prague.
- IV. The competition is designed for wind orchestras up to 25 musicians. Orchestras won't be divided into categories but the compulsory composition has to be included in the repertoire.

The duration of the performance is 30 minutes (stay on the stage). Within this time the compulsory composition – Jaromir Vejvoda/ Vasek Zeman - Kvetou maky (Zwei Schwestern, Die Blonde Luise), without singing will be performed as well as further compositions (free choice of a programme) with or without singing. At the beginning of each performance all orchestras can perform an optional composition to warm up, which won't be judged but must not exceed the time limit.
- V. DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS IS 30TH JUNE 2010.
The compulsory composition will be announced after receiving of your application - in case of your concrete interest.
The participating orchestras are supposed to send the compositions of their own programme (in 2 copies) in a form of leading parts to the organisational committee latest 1 month before the competition.
- VII. The Jury will be formed by the organiser.
The jury will inform about results after the competition (without releasing of the number of achieved points). The orchestras will receive a written resolution of each member of the jury in a form of appraisal papers.
The decision of the jury is final.
- VIII. The order of the performances will be determined by the organiser.
- IX. On the basis of achieved points the orchestras will be assigned according to international rules:
a/ gold band
b/ silver band
c/ bronze band
- X. At the end of the festival an awarding ceremony will be held. During this time all orchestras will play together the following compositions in this order: Jaromir Vejvoda/Vasek Zeman: Kdyby ty muziky nebyly, Jaromir Vejvoda/Ladislav Jacura: Zbraslavska (In deinen Armen), Jaromir Vejvoda/Vasek Zeman: Skoda lasky (the Beer Barrel Polka)
- XII. Seats will be provided by the organiser. The orchestras are supposed to bring their own note's stands and the conductor's stand.
